

Lessons Learned

Evacuation planning for the elderly, people with disabilities, and others with access and functional needs.

It Takes A Village

- ✓ Transit
- ✓ Law Enforcement
- ✓ Schools
- ✓ Public, private and non-profits agencies
- ✓ Human service organizations
- ✓ Advocacy groups

Ask & You Will Receive

Ask people with access and functional needs can help you understand:

- ✓ Needs as well as capabilities
- ✓ Communications strategies
- ✓ Durable medical equipment
- ✓ Expectations management

Integration, not Segregation

- ✓ Community wide planning
- ✓ Coordination of transit resources -
ESF1
- ✓ Leveraging existing data bases
- ✓ Committees @ unique challenges

Who's On First?

In the EOC establish a liaison for access and functional needs

- ✓ Special advisor to command staff
- ✓ Liaison with advocacy organizations
- ✓ Coordinate service requests
- ✓ Supports Joint Information Center

Think Outside The Box

- ✓ COOP - TOC, back up drivers
- ✓ Transport needs outside service area
- ✓ Service animals and pets
- ✓ Service plan for shelters
- ✓ Transit demand community-wide

Take Stock of your Assets

- ✓ Transit resources
- ✓ Paratransit resources
- ✓ School buses
- ✓ Taxis and shuttle equipment
- ✓ Service organizations
- ✓ Type your resources:
 - ✓ Fleet type, size, accessibility
 - ✓ Fuel type, range,
 - ✓ Turning radius

You Better Shop Around

Compare plans for overlaps and gaps:

- ✓ Senior housing
- ✓ Licensed care facilities
- ✓ Skilled care facilities
- ✓ Incarceration facilities

TAP IN: Transportation Assembly Points

- ✓ Transit does it by concentrating
- ✓ 80/20 rule x 2
- ✓ Geographic dispersion
- ✓ Site requirements

Notice and No-Notice Events

- ✓ Staged/progressive evacuation
- ✓ Accounting for shadow evacuation
- ✓ Accounting for no-notice events

Mutual Aid and MOUs

- ✓ Asset management plan
- ✓ Cost sharing agreements
- ✓ Liability agreements
 - ✓ Transportation agencies
 - ✓ Human service organizations
 - ✓ County emergency management

Gary Gleason

Fulbright Scholar, Civil Protection
Vice President, Nusura

gary.gleason@nusura.com

970.948.7680

